Chapter 7 The Television Chocolate Room

1. Why did Mr.Wonka hand black glasses to the visitors?

Ans. Mr.Wonka handed black glasses to the visitors because the room was very bright and the light could blind them.

2. Describe the room that the visitors entered. What was the name of the room?

Ans. The visitors entered the testing room which was very long and narrow with white walls and floors.It was completely empty except at the far ends where enormous cameras were on the wheels and army of Oompa-Loompas were working.

3. What were the Oompa-Loompa doing in the room? What did Charlie think when he spotted them?

Ans. Oompa-Loompas were oiling the lens in complete silence and at the other end another Oompa-Loompa was sitting at the black table gazing at the very large television screen.Charlie had a uncertain sense of danger when he spotted them.

4. "I shall now tell you how an ordinary television works", he continued.

(a)Why did Mr.Wonka need to explain this?

Ans. Mr.Wonka need to explain this because his new invention 'Television Chocolate' was based on the theory of an ordinary television working.

(b)Did Mr.Wonka himself like television? How do we know?

Ans. No, Mr.Wonka did not like television,we come to know by his statement when he says, 'I don't like television myself,but I know children seem to watch it all day.

5. Immediately, six Oompa-Loompa marched forward,carrying the most enormous bar of chocolate Charlie had ever seen.

(a)Why were the Oompa-Loompa carrying the chocolate?

Ans. Oompa-Loompas were carrying the chocolate because Mr.Wonka had ordered them to bring the chocolate.

(b)Why was it enormous?

Ans. Whenever we send something by television it always shrink in size and since this chocolate bar was going to be send by the television so it was enormous.

6. Why did Mr.Wonka warn Mike Teavee to stand back? Why did he not warn the Oompa-Loompas?

Ans. Mr.Wonka warn Mike Teavee to stand back because he was standing very close to the camera and the rays coming out of it could break him into a million tiny pieces in one second. He did not warn the Oompa-Loompa because they were wearing space suit which protected them from the rays.
